“No matter what happens, we’ll make it through with my protag ruleset!”

Neptune

The self-proclaimed Protagonist of Protagonists who can blow away any kind of adversity!

The patron CPU of Planeptune.
She’s the face of the series.
I mean, c’mon, her name’s in the title!
Her optimistic personality is brighter than ever this time around. She’s endured the CPU Shift Period and all of the crazy dimension hopping all while keeping a smile on her face.
Neptune has a strangely powerful charm about her that can destroy any amount of seriousness in a room.

Her only trouble is the fact that most people can’t ever seem to pronounce her name correctly.

"CPU Purple Heart!
I have arrived!"

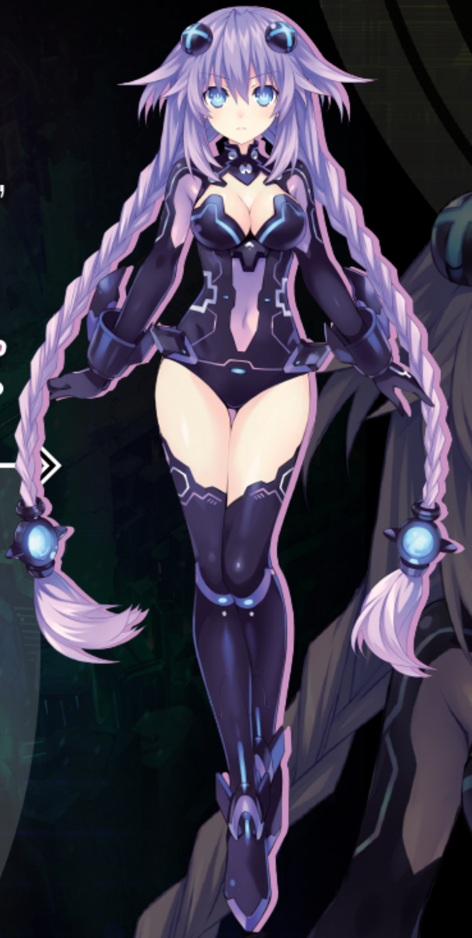

Purple Heart

Planeptune's awe-inspiring CPU.

Neptune's HDD form.
Her older appearance and serene personality make her seem like a completely different person. Nepgear looks up and aspires to this form a little more than Neptune's untransformed state. You can still see traces of Neptune's pre-transformed, carefree self in some of her actions and speech.

Neptune usually only transforms when friends are in trouble or there's a strong enemy around because the process can be, in her words, a little too tiring.

"W-What do you mean by that?!
It's not like I'd be lonely at all
if you never came back!"

Noire

A lonely CPU who has a hard time being honest with her feelings.

The patron CPU of Lastation.
She has a serious disposition, and tries to do everything on her own. She's a classic tsundere girl that has a rather difficult time opening up to new people.
Because of her personality, Neptune will often tease her and call her a loner. She hides it from the others, but her favorite hobby is making and wearing all sorts of cosplay outfits.

Noire always ends up taking a harsh attitude with her younger sister, Uni. Their awkward relationship sometimes gives Noire a bit of anxiety.

"I went easy on you...
Do you really think you can defeat me at my full power?!"

Black Heart

Lastation's noble CPU.

Noire's HDD form.
Her personality transforms into one full of confidence and aggression in this form.
Her habit of not being transparent with her feelings mostly disappears, although her pride and some tsundere tendencies remain relatively unchanged.

"This level of planning is easy for an intelligence-type CPU like me."

Blanc

The silent, savant CPU.

The patron CPU of Lowee. She normally has a calm and quiet demeanor, but when she builds up a lot of stress, she snaps into a rage and becomes rather impossible to tame. She's an avid reader and writer, and claims to be the most intelligent of all the CPUs. She's secretly been selling the novels she wrote at conventions, but, for some reason, they don't sell very well.

She often has trouble dealing with her younger twin siblings, Rom and Ram, but for the most part, they all live harmoniously together.

"This is perfect. Let's use this as a chance to see which one of us is the strongest goddess!"

White Heart

Lowee's powerful CPU.

Blanc's HDD form.
Her quiet demeanor disappears when transformed and her attitude and speech towards others becomes very brusque.
Despite her small stature, she's incredibly talented in the art of hand-to-hand combat, but the fact that her body doesn't mature like the other CPUs bothers her immensely.

"As Leanbox's CPU,
I must always maintain my duty to her."

Vert

A graceful beauty with the heart of a gamer.

The patron CPU of Leanbox.
Her outward appearance is that of a kind, mature older sister, but, inside, she's a hardcore game enthusiast. Her room is overflowing with games and merchandise.
Vert has the utmost confidence in her style and is quite proud of her physical appearance and gigantic... personality.

The fact that she's the only CPU without a younger sister greatly bothers her, and when she finds a chance, she often acts as the older sister of the other CPU Candidates (mostly Nepgear).

"Splendid. This is the perfect opportunity for me to show off my strength before all the nations."

Green Heart

Leanbox's lovely CPU.

Vert's HDD form.
Her style doesn't change much, but her laidback personality becomes even more calm, even as she ruthlessly beats down all those who oppose her.

"I don't expect you to get it, but I'm gonna fight this giant, one-on-one!"

Uzume Tennouboshi

A spirited daydreamer who fights alone to save her world.

A girl living in a place called Zero Dimension, the world where Neptune and Nepgear first met her.
She has a spirited and blunt behavior, but deep down, she is kindhearted and bears a strong sense of duty as a CPU.
She risks her life in order to protect the residents of Zero Dimension who are barely surviving as it is. Her fighting spirit and devotion to her people is almost unparalleled.
On the other side of things, her habit of intense daydreaming reveals she has a more girlish side to her.

"Awwiee... I finally won against doggie...!"

Orange Heart

By transforming, her daydreams are amplified tenfold!

Uzume's HDD form.
Her lively and gruff personality completely reverses. She exudes an adorably cheerful temperament in this form. Calling her enemies "doggies" and dancing to the beat of her own drum might make her seem lacking in ardor or urgency during battles, but she is always earnest and ready to fight for her people.

"Wow, you have 'Nep' in your name, too?! Crazy!"

Neptune (Older)

Dimensional Traveler.

The other Neptune that Nepgear meets in Zero Dimension.
Like the smaller Neptune, she has a bright and positive personality. Contrary to her mature look, however, she displays some semblance of innocence or defenselessness in her actions.
Her hobby is filling her specimen book, the "Nepnote," and she travels to other dimensions in search of rare bugs.
While she's called the "Older Neptune," it's still unclear whether she's actually an adult or if she's actually still just under aged.

"Uzume, I am relieved to hear your voice.
We're roughly 70% complete with evacuation."

Umio

Uzume's staff officer?! A human-faced fish with a charmingly handsome voice and the most noble of souls.

Uzume's right-hand fish with the most serious facial expression you've ever seen on a person, fish or not. Contrary to his ridiculous appearance, he has a very sensible personality, and Neptune describes him as an "elegant gentleman." He swims through the air instead of the water, but whether he uses lungs or gills to breathe is shrouded in mystery.

"Thank you for your business!
That'll cost you 1000 Credits!"

B-Sha

A girl who carries two identities: one as a member of Gold Third and the other as a hero of justice.

A bright, innocent girl.
Her hobbies include building robots and collecting hero toys.
However, she loves money to an even greater extent.
She transforms into the mysterious hero known as Presto Mask to fight evil and protect the children. Everyone already knows she's the one behind Presto Mask but entertains her anyway.

"Control of Gamindustri?
...Not interested."

S-Sha

A noble warrior who wields a crystal sword.

A young woman who's reserved and seems very cool, but has a considerably aggravated case of chuunibyou. She has two Dogoo-like monsters who serve under her. She's usually indifferent, and has a habit of saying "not interested" in response to just about everything. That being said, she does, however, show blind and passionate devotion to a certain person.

“Hey! Hold off on that match for a second!”

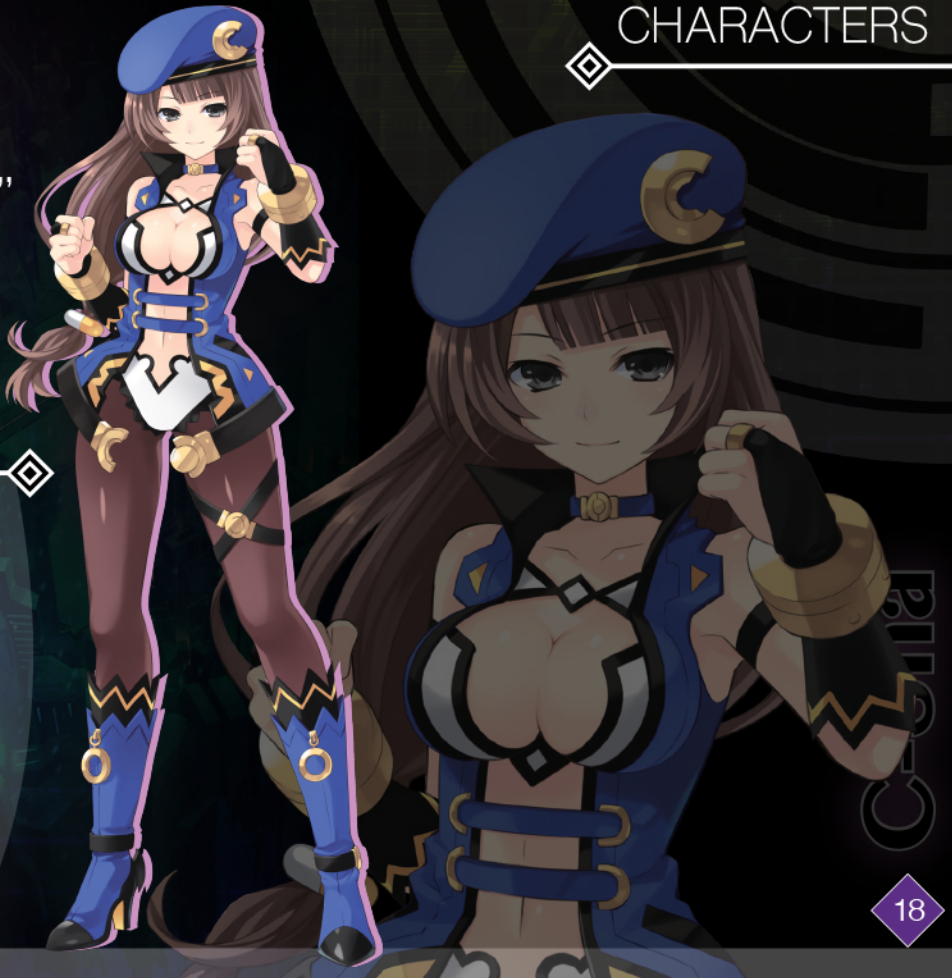

C-Sha

The stylishly robust fighter and the leader of Gold Third.

The sensible member of Gold Third, who is also in charge of it.
She’s more of a glutton than her looks may suggest, and she can’t do so much as lift a finger on an empty stomach.
She usually watches over the other three members of Gold Third from afar, and in times of need, she exerts excellent decisiveness and judgement.

She’s very finicky about being stylish and is proud of her looks.

"This is K-Sha. I have successfully infiltrated the destination point. I will now continue the mission."

K-Sha

Underneath her fluttering heart lies the genes of mercenaries.

A student of the Lastation school for girls. She excels in both academics and sports, and rumor has it she is quite popular with the boys. Her hobbies are music appreciation and performance, and she's also quite skilled at rhythm games due to her quick reflexes.

Whenever she picks up a gun, however, her personality changes to that of a military veteran who will complete a mission without so much as wincing at the sight of a bloodbath.

"...Gearsy. Gearsy, huh...?
Hehe, this might be the first time I've been given such a cute nickname..."

Nepgear

Neptune's reliable, supportive sister.

Planeptune's CPU Candidate and Neptune's younger sister. She has a hidden talent of being adept at tinkering with various machines and gadgets.
In other words, she's a mecha-otaku.
She's reliable to a fault. Nepgear loves her sister to the point of coddling her at times.
Histoire does not always approve of this behavior.
She was once the protagonist in a previous game.

Unlike her sister who drags other people around to do her work for her, Nepgear's the type of person to support those around her.

"You won't have to sacrifice anyone.
Would you care to keep looking?
We can find it together."

Purple Sister

Leader of the CPU Candidates.

Nepgear's HDD form.
Her combat capabilities improve when she changes form, but her personality barely changes at all, compared to the older sisters.

Because her dainty personality only becomes slightly more bold when transformed, she's a valuable resource for creating some situational comedy between characters whether she's transformed or not.

"I'll at least thank you!
Hey, what kind of person
do you think I am?!"

Uni

The spry, jet-black gunner.

Lastation's CPU Candidate, and Noire's younger sister. She's a impish, tsundere girl. Contrary to her appearance, however, she's a hardcore military otaku that loves guns so much that she visits gun shops a few times a week.
She was never this bad before, but ever since she started getting along with the mecha-loving Nepgear, her enthusiasm for her own craft has grown.
She now spends more of her pocket money on guns rather than clothes or sweets.
Her relationship with her older sister used to be awkward, but it's slowly but surely becoming much more... normal.
She's usually the most affected by Nepgear's disappearances, and she will always stubbornly refuse to admit it.

“But we still have our own willpower!
We all still have the right to live!”

Black Sister

The gunpowder-scented CPU Candidate of Lastation.

Uni’s HDD form.
Like her older sister, her personality changes into one that is strong and startlingly belligerent.

The other CPUs and Candidates usually have a small increase in bust size when transforming, but, for some reason, Uni’s bust shrinks down rather noticeably. Lately, she had been dealing with this by telling herself that they won’t get in the way when she’s shooting her gun; it’s probably best she doesn’t find out that Rom and Ram secretly refer to her as their “flat friend.”

"I'm going to go after Nepgear.
I want to give her strength."

Rom

A shy and hardworking girl who loves her sister Ram.

Lowee's CPU Candidate, Blanc's younger sister, and the older twin.

Her personality is shy and timid, and she has a hard time talking with other people. She can't express her emotions frankly like Ram, and she has the habit of speaking the emotions she's experiencing, saying things like excited and thump thump.

"I agree with Ram.
I won't give up."

White Sister Rom

Pure and innocent CPU Candidate of Lowee.

Rom's HDD form.
Similar to the other CPUs, her personality becomes slightly more bold. This gives others the impression that she's aged a bit. Because of this, she is able to articulate her emotions better than her untransformed state. However, she doesn't seem to reveal her emotions much.

White Sister Rom

"Yeah, of course!
Blanc isn't any villain, she's an ally of justice!"

Ram

An energetic and mischievous girl who loves Rom.

Lowee's CPU Candidate, Blanc's younger sister, and the younger twin.

Contrary to Rom's shy personality, Ram is lively and rambunctious.
When she was much younger, she used to stick to Rom closely and avoid other people altogether. These days, she pulls pranks on others no matter who they are.

"I don't wanna fight!
Let's pull pranks on Blanc like we did before!"

White Sister Ram

CPU Candidate of Lowee and magic master.

Ram's HDD form.
Similar to the other CPUs, her personality becomes slightly more bold. Coupled with her assertive tendencies, the confidence she gains from transforming gives others the impression that she's aged quite a bit.

"Jeez, Nep, what's this racket about?
You haven't even been back five minutes and you're making a scene."

IF

The single gust of wind blowing through Gamindustri.

She is the self-proclaimed single wind blowing through Gamindustri.
As one of the few people around with any common sense, she's often pointing out and chastising the others' shenanigans.

She's generally very cool and mature, but if she loses her smart phone, she can become restless and overwhelmingly anxious.

"Then let's help lots more people out for Nep-Nep's sake!"

Compa

The airheaded nurse who loves Nep-Nep.

A clumsy nurse who spends her time working at a hospital in Planeptune, if she's not out on an adventure. Compa has a knack for cooking and completing other household duties, so she often comes to the Basilicom to cook meals and help out. She loves Neptune, and was the first to call her "Nep-Nep." In order to have Neptune eat with a smile, Compa always ends up coddling her.

"Neptune! Listen to me.
We're in the midst of Gamindustri's Shift Period and this is simply not the time for brash behavior."

Histoire

Planeptune's history book.

Planeptune's Oracle and recorder of history. She is an artificial being created long ago by a former CPU of Planeptune. Her purpose is to record the nation's history. In the past, her role was confined to being the keeper of Planeptune's chronicle. However, ever since Neptune became the CPU, she became anxious for the nation's future and so, Histoire became an Oracle to manage the nation alongside its lazy ruler.

She secretly places a large amount of trust in Neptune, who gets the job done when needed most, but Histoire will never vocalize it. She thinks Neptune would get carried away with such knowledge.

"Yeah, keep flappin' your gums, pal, it's related to 'chronicle' and you know it."

Croire

The lawless recorder of history.

Similar to Histoire, she is a mysterious girl who has been tasked with the important role of recording history.

Until recently, she had been taped up and trapped as a specimen within big Neptune's "Nepnote."

"T-To run into my beloved Compa
in a place like this,
it must be fate, chu!"

Warechu

Small villain of the back alley.

A small-time, rodent villain of Gamindustri. Born and raised in the seedy, back alleys of Gamindustri, just about every working villain in the game knows who this guy is. Ever since Compa treated his wounds in the past, he's continued to hold on to his feelings for her.

"My name is Arfoire... a name that will signal your demise, and ring the bell of destruction for this hopeless world!"

Arfoire

The one who will end Zero Dimension.

A mysterious woman that Neptune and Nepgear meet in Zero Dimension. Other than her objective to bring destruction and demise to the world, everything else about her is wrapped in mystery.

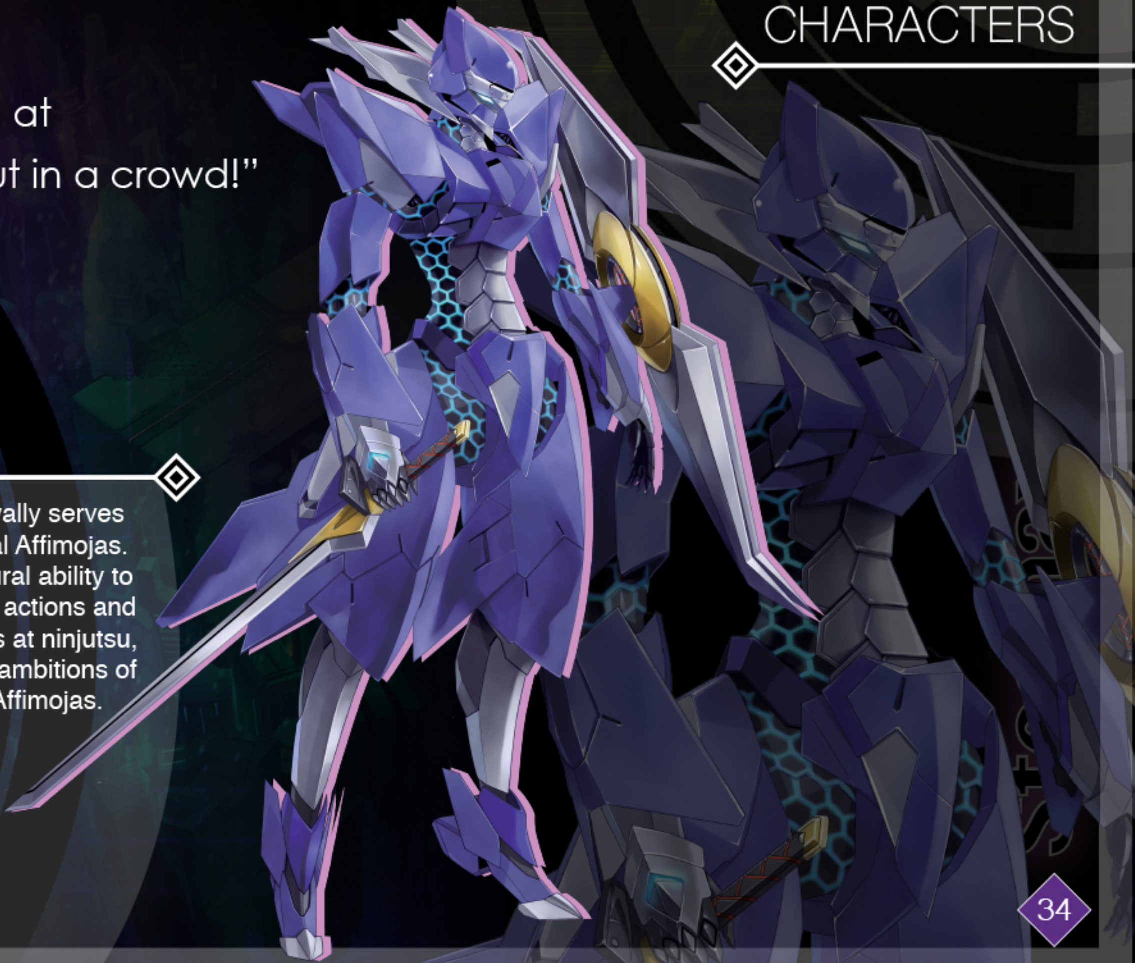

"Alas, I cannot be bested at my ability to not stand out in a crowd!"

Steamax

The moody, girl-fearing ninja.

A ninja who loyally serves General Affimojas.
Not only does he utilize his natural ability to hide in the shadows for covert actions and information control, but he excels at ninjutsu, making him essential to the ambitions of General Affimojas.

"Wealth. I will require as much as I can possess."

General Affimojas

A money monger who desires all the wealth of the world.

A self-proclaimed General and the head of the "Secret Organization AffimaX," who uses an aerial battleship as a base.
He's extremely obsessed with money, and is willing to plunge Gamindustri into chaos for the sake of a profit.

Thanks to the affiliates on Gamindustri's biggest information site, "@GeneralSummarySite," which Affimojas runs himself, he's making a tremendous amount of money.

"I'm different from Warechu!"

Chuko

Used shop manager also known as the "Hardware Appraiser Chu."

A mouse that looks after a used shop all on her own.
Her level of retro game knowledge is on par with the expertise of both Neptune and Vert, which makes her a very good game shop manager.
Unlike Warechu, she's a very sensible mouse.

Dark CPU

A giant enemy that appears out of nowhere and destroys cities.
The Dark CPU's destruction exceeds mere physical limitations and erases matter itself. Because of this, even the ground in the area the Dark CPU attacks disappears into a void.

This is also the fateful opponent that Uzume has been fighting all alone for so very long.

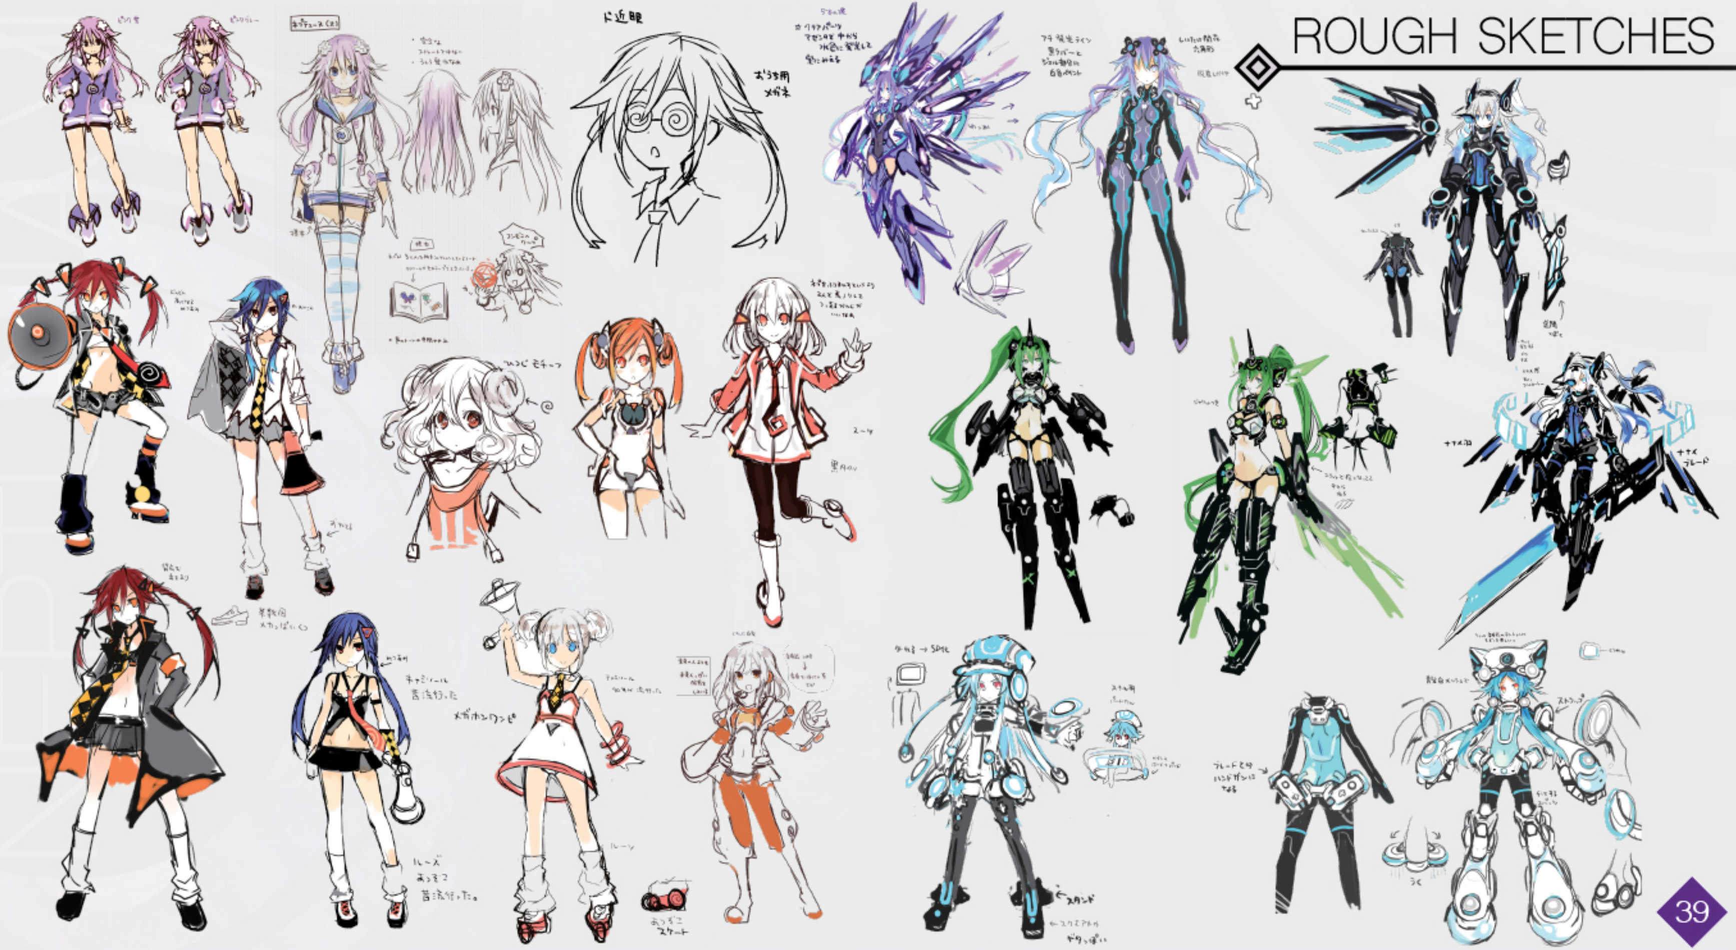

Its frame easily surpasses 30 meters.
For some reason, its form is vaguely reminiscent of the four CPUs of Hyper Dimension.
